What should the website
development process look like?

WAWATERWATERWATER
FALLFALLFALL

A common process is called “waterfall”.

Waterfall isn't great for many reasons...

Decision maker
unhappy with the design?

You start over from the beginning.

Budget can be eaten up too soon
because pacing
isn't well set.

Developers come in too late, and you find out that features or designs that were promised can't be coded.

Problems don't show up until coding.

Decision makers
struggle to visualize finished product before
it's complete.

Development
takes a while and
decision makers
wander off and
rethink things.

QA takes forever
and is demoralizing for everyone.

AGILE-ISH

We use an “agile-ish” process.

Agile-ish fixes many of the issues we had with waterfall.

How does agile-ish work?

Start with keyword research.

Keyword Volume

How much does each keyword "category" contribute to overall volume?

Next, build the blueprint.

This is your h1 and it should be descriptive and include your primary keyword (audit and review services).

Page Header

These following fields will allow you to edit the page heading text, the background image, the colour overlay, and there is an optional field for content that you can use for shortcode buttons and brief blurbs.

Page Heading

This field allows you to set a page heading that may be different from the URL for SEO purposes. If you do not fill in this field, the default page title will be used.

Page Heading Colour Overlay *

Select a colour for your page header. The Home page is black. Current Season and its sub-pages are purple. Venue Rentals and its sub-pages are orange. Get Involved and its sub-pages are blue. Our Story and its sub-pages are green. Festival and its sub-pages are red.

Page Heading Background Image

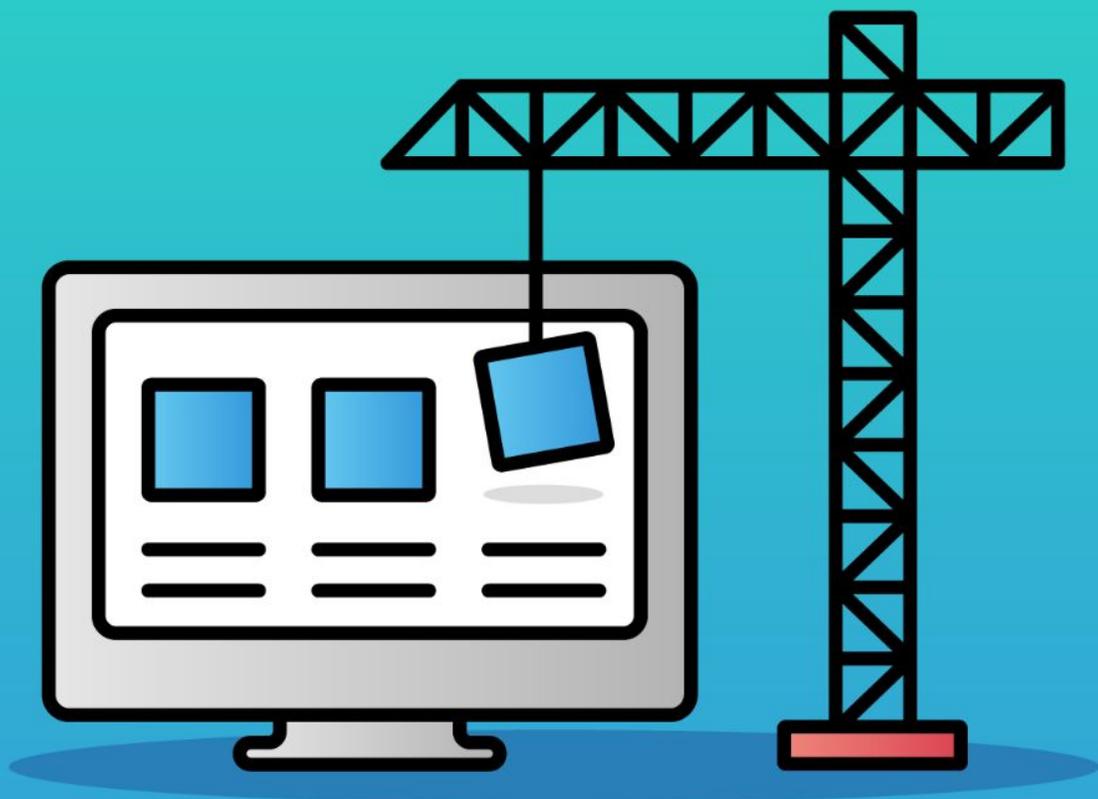

If you do not include a page header image, your page title will be displayed on a solid coloured background. We recommend your page heading background image be 2000px wide by 1125px high.

Is Page Header Content Required?

If you need to add a button (with a shortcode) or additional text aside from the page title, choose 'yes' and a field will appear that will allow you to add additional content to the page header.

No Yes

You can build the pages early.
